

Retail Sources:

Non-Toxic Cleaners

Retail products you can try if you want to use non-toxic cleaners but aren't ready to try making your own. There are plenty to pick from, here are a few examples. As with everything, make sure you read the labels and do your research to know what ingredients you want to avoid.

www.blueland.com

From their website: "Keep our homes and planet clean with products that eliminate single-use plastic and can be refilled again (and again)."

www.getcleanpeople.com

From their website: "With CLEAN PEOPLE, you're helping rid the world of single-use plastics. That's because Clean People focuses on using plastic-free and recycled plastic packaging."

www.thrivemarket.com

Thrive Market carries thousands of premium products—from 100% non-GMO food to cruelty-free beauty to plant-powered cleaning and more.

Melaleuca (www.melaleuca.com)

A subscription-based company.

Method cleaning supplies, can be found at

Thrive Market (www.thrivemarket.com) or Target stores (www.target.com)

www.branchbasics.com (these have not been personally tested)

From their website: "We're on a mission to help people create healthy homes and experience the power of pure."

Mrs. Meyers (www.mrsmeyers.com) products can be found at their website, in stores, and online at multiple places, including Amazon (www.amazon.com).

From the Mrs. Meyers website: "Growing in Harmony with Sustainability."